

A New Generation

This past month, I discovered some interesting information about world evangelism. The need is immense. Two out of every 5 people are unreached. Nevertheless, at our current numbers, there is one evangelical believer for every nine non-believers in the world. This means that, although the task is great, the goal of finishing the Great Commission is within reach.

Still, with the changes in society, pressure is mounting for us to keep our faith to ourselves. If the trends continue, we may be experiencing the high water mark of Evangelical Christianity even as our goal is within reach.

How do we combat these trends? Only by keeping our purpose in focus: to seek and save that which is lost. It is therefore imperative to engage in and promote evangelism, and that is just what we're doing here in Mérida.

We're teaching a new generation of Bible Institute students in evangelism. They are walking through a set of lessons and assignments to help them make evangelism a way of life. Already, we're seeing fruit as these students are putting themselves in contact with seekers.

Crossing Borders for the Gospel

Our work with the Jesus Film has moved us into new territory--Quintana Roo, to be exact. As a team, we traveled to the town of Cobá to introduce Pastor Vincente Pech and his church to the concept of church planting movements. Since that initial trip, an Action Team has been selected and trained, and plans are being made for our first projection in that state rich in Maya culture.

Even more exciting have been our conversations with the officials of "Distrito Caribe," who oversee the activity of the Assemblies of God in Quintana Roo. They have given us the green light to present the Jesus Film plan to their pastors with the view to launch the Jesus Film as an official program for evangelistic outreach to the Maya.

prayer

We desperately need your prayers as we continue our ministry here in Mexico. Please pray for:

- Evangelistic and church planting outreaches in the states of Yucatán and Quintana Roo.
- Continued divine provision for financial resources.
- Protection for us and for our ministry partners.

connect

Flag football was the sport of choice for our three this year. It was great to watch them play and enjoy this American import in Mexico with their friends.
